All people and events in this pack are fictional.

Saturday at the community centre

Book club: 11 am-12 noon in the reading room. Talk about a short story. The room is quiet and indoors. The activity is free.

Park walk: 10-11 am. Meet outside the centre and walk in the park. The walk is free. Bring a coat.

Team quiz: 11 am-12 noon in the main hall. Answer questions in teams. The hall is indoors, but it can be noisy. The quiz costs £3 per person.

Contact the organiser to book a place. Places are limited.

Help Alex and Mira choose

Alex is available only on Saturday from 11 am to 12 noon. Mira wants a quiet indoor activity. Both want a free activity.

1. Read on your own. Underline the time, place and price for each activity.
2. Which activity fits both people? Find two reasons in the notice.
3. Which activities do not fit? Say what is wrong.

My choice and reasons:

Talk with your partner

1. A says a choice and one reason. B checks the notice and adds a different reason.
2. Change roles. Ask about one activity you did not choose.
3. Write your own short recommendation. Do not copy your partner.

Need help? Use student page 2. Finished? Ask: What do they still need to check before they go?

Find the words you need

Student page 2 | Use the help you need

It is _____ and _____.

Alex can attend from _____ to _____.

The _____ is _____, but it _____.

Try a different example

A museum visit is indoors. It costs £4 per person. Jo and Sam can spend only £2 each.

Jo: What about the museum?

Sam: It is indoors, but it costs £4 each. We only have £2 each.

Jo: Let's ask about a cheaper activity.

Does the museum fit their budget? Which words give the reason? Check with your teacher, then return to Alex and Mira.

Go further

1. Explain why each other Saturday activity does not fit. Check all the needs.
2. What do Alex and Mira still need to ask the organiser? Write one question. Do not invent an answer.
3. Tell a partner your recommendation. Your partner asks: Why? or What do we still need to check?

My recommendation / question to the organiser:

Talk about you, or invent answers: Do you prefer quiet or lively activities? What makes an activity worth paying for? What do you check before booking? Ask your partner one more question.
