

Invent an unusual event

Make a new poster. Then invite someone.

Use your own idea or choose: a silent picnic, a terrible-talent show, a backwards sports day. All events can be fictional.

1. Your event poster

Event name: _____

Day and time: _____

Place: _____

Cost: _____

What to bring: _____

One useful rule or arrangement: _____

2. A two-sentence invitation

Include the event, time and place. Use your own words.

3. Tell a partner next lesson

Invite your partner without reading every word. They ask one question about the arrangements. Check your poster, then try again. Would they come?

Check: Do the invitation and poster agree? Can your partner work out what to do? There is no fixed answer; ask your teacher for feedback.
