

What Is the PPP Method in English Language Teaching?

S06E16 | For teachers to adapt to their learners

Purpose

PPP stands for presentation, practice and production . The teacher first introduces or highlights new language, then learners practise it with support, and finally they use it more independently in communication.

Try this in your next lesson

Presentation: Do learners understand the meaning as well as the form?

Our suggested routine

- ☐ Presentation: Do learners understand the meaning as well as the form?
- ☐ Practice: Are they actually manipulating the target language?
- ☐ Production: Does the task give them a genuine reason to use it?
- ☐ Can learners use the form again later without being pushed?
- ☐ If the class needs to loop back, are you willing to change the plan?

After the attempt

What worked? What needs another model or a smaller step? Note one change for next time.

Read the full explanation and examples:
howtoenglishpod.com - S06E16 article